

RPS Duet Prize for Young Composers

The RPS Duet Prize for Young Composers is awarded by the Royal Philharmonic Society (RPS) and Duet Group to an outstanding young composer.

In 2014 the Royal Philharmonic Society and Duet Group established Ensemble Philharmonic – an initiative that offers opportunities to students at secondary schools to experience and explore the classical music profession. Alongside tickets to concerts, masterclasses, talks and project work, this Prize is one of the ways in which Ensemble Philharmonic is supporting the next generation of talented musicians. The inaugural prize for Young Composers was awarded in 2016 to Freya Ireland.

Prize

The recipient of the Prize will receive:

1. £1,500 cash
2. A professional commission and performance
3. A year's membership to the Royal Philharmonic Society
4. The RPS/Duet Group will seek publicity in the press for the recipient, including on their respective websites.

Terms

1. The Prize is awarded biennially
2. The Prize is awarded to composers aged 18 and under by 31st August 2018
3. The Prize is only open to UK residents.

Applications

1. Composers studying through a music hub/service or at school but not at a specialist music school, may enter the Prize
2. Completed applications are to be submitted by the music hub/service or school and not by the individual applicant
3. Applications must include:
 - i) The Prize application form
 - ii) Proof of the applicant's age e.g. copy of passport / birth certificate
 - iii) Proof of residency in the UK

- iv) Two references: from the applicant's principal composition teacher and the Head of Music at the applicant's school / music hub/service
 - v) Three PDF scores of original music by the applicant, including at least one with a MP3 recording or YouTube link
4. The applications and interviews will be judged on merit by independent jurors selected by the Royal Philharmonic Society and Duet Group
 5. The juror's decisions are final. While the jurors reserve the right to make additional inquiries about any of the applications they receive, they cannot enter into any other discussion or correspondence, nor give reasons for their decisions
 6. Unsuccessful nominations will not be excluded from application in future years
 7. All completed application materials should be uploaded via the Dropbox link below (N.B. when filling in the name on the upload page, please fill in the name of the applicant on whose behalf you are submitting the application):

<https://www.dropbox.com/request/MUfq0enPZOMHVX9plYKN>

Timetable

1. The application deadline is 15 November 2017, 12 noon.
2. Successful applicants will be invited to an interview in London in February 2018
3. The winner of the Prize will be announced in May 2018. The professional commission will be given in the 2018/19 concert season and will be confirmed between the RPS and the recipient.

Contact Us

For any questions, please contact the RPS at web@philharmonicsociety.uk or call 020 7287 0019

Royal Philharmonic Society

The Royal Philharmonic Society unites the music profession and its audiences to create a vibrant future for music: supporting and working creatively with talented young performers and composers, championing excellence, and encouraging audiences to listen to, and talk about, great music. The Society has been at the heart of music for over 200 years, with direct links to Beethoven (it commissioned the composer's Ninth Symphony), Mendelssohn, Wagner and many of the iconic figures of classical music.

CHAMPIONS OF EXCELLENCE: The Society sets the standard and lets the world know about the finest classical music making. From its historic Gold Medal to the annual RPS Music Awards for live music, recognition by the RPS is a guarantee of outstanding music achievement.

YOUNG MUSICIANS: The RPS invests in talented young performers at the start of their careers, offering much needed funding to buy instruments, teaching tailored to their individual needs, conducting workshops to support a new wave of women conductors, or the chance to be mentored by an experienced, established performer.

COMPOSERS: The Society supports new music through commissioning new work, repeat performances, workshops, residency schemes and encouraging interaction between composers and audiences.

AUDIENCES: The RPS is a voice for music, putting music at the centre of cultural life. Whether a regular listener or just beginning to explore classical music, the RPS encourages people to listen and talk about music through a series of events, talks and debates.

philharmonicsociety.uk

The Duet Group

Duet is the leading organisation leasing and servicing musical instruments for individual musicians, schools, conservatoires and universities. Duet selects, services and maintains musical equipment to the highest possible standard empowering our clients to make world class music.

Additionally, the Duet Foundation has been established to help young musicians in their exploration of music. The Foundation funds young musicians to assist with their tuition and instrument purchase as well as concert performance and mentoring. It has also funded orchestral concerts, community projects, chamber ensembles and young composers' premieres.

The Duet Philharmonic Orchestra, established in 2013, seeks to give young orchestral players a 'once in a lifetime experience' performing repertoire that many musicians can only dream of playing, to the highest possible standard. Performances to date have been Mahler's 8th Symphony, Strauss' Alpine Symphony and Four Last Songs, Mahler's 5th Symphony and Prokofiev's Piano Concerto no. 2.

Within the last two years Duet has established a partnership with the Royal Philharmonic Society in a collaboration entitled Ensemble Philharmonic. This allows aspiring young musicians to make connections with the professional music world through concerts, talks, masterclasses and creative collaborations.

The new RPS Duet Prizes furthers the aims of encouraging young people to achieve their aspirations through world-class music making, and seeks to identify exceptional young composers and performers.

duetgroup.co.uk